

International Internship Resource Guide

Finding an internship or job abroad is not an exact science. This guide is a resource for you to begin your search. Keep in mind that internships are often unpaid, and some may require tuition or fees. Internship programs often arrange or assist with housing and many require fluency or working knowledge of the foreign language.

OVERSEAS TEACHING RESOURCES

Teaching (usually English) is another great way to obtain the experience of living abroad. Programs require a BA/BS Degree (in any subject) and prefer some teaching experience. There are also several TESOL (Teachers of English as a Second Language) certificate programs available, both in the USA and overseas.
